

A Book Review

We're All Wonders

By: R.J. Palacio

How many of you have seen the movie? We're All Wonders shares a BEAUTIFUL message about how to share kindness and our imaginations with the world! This year, I am planning on doing this book for a program with my 2nd Graders. In it, we plan on taking the text and using it to incorporate singing, moving, dancing, and playing (both games and instruments.) Using the text, the students and I will create songs, rhymes, and accompaniment. This program will be my first attempt for younger grades to include MFC Volumes into the program. It will truly be a blend of Kodály and Orff together.
